INTRODUCTION.

This Bibliography of Printing in America comprises books, pamphlets and some articles in magazines, in English, French, German and Spanish, relating exclusively to the History of Printing in the New World.

In this list are many books in Spanish not often seen, and, perhaps, unknown to many collectors. Senor Joaquin Garcia Icazbalceta's "Bibliografia Mexicana del Siglo XVI" is the chief work in any language relating to the early history of printing in Mexico. Of the books relating to printing in South America those by Senor Jose Toribio Medina make an extraordinary list, numbering twenty-six titles. Included in this list are several relating to the history and bibliography of the press in the Philippine Islands. Other writers on the press in Spanish America are Retana, Pardo de Tavera, Gutierrez, O'Ryan, Leon, Andrade, Olavarria y Ferrari, Olaguibel, and Zinny.

Books relating to Benjamin Franklin have not been included in this list for the reason that they would occupy too much space in a work of the limited scope of this Bibliography, and for the further reason that there is Ford's Bibliography of Franklin, and the catalogues of special collections in Boston, Philadelphia and Washington.

I trust that those who make use of this little book, the first of its kind, will pardon all omissions and commissions. The work was undertaken because of my love of the subject. I am a printer on one of the Boston morning newspapers, and what spare time I have had during the last several years has been spent in gathering the following titles. A good number of the books described are in my own collection, but the majority of the titles were taken from books on printing in the Boston Public Library.

It would have been a pleasure to have added a list of all the periodicals that have been published in America devoted to newspapers and printing, but as the list would make a long one and its preparation greatly delay the publication of the present Bibliography, I have decided to postpone the issuance of such a list until time and opportunity are more favorable.

Brenton, James J. Voices from the Press: A collection of Sketches, Essays and Poems by Practical Printers. New York: Charles B. Norton, 1850. 8vo, xx, 13-312 pp.

Contains 78 contributions. Horace Greeley, Ben: Perley Poore, Bayard Taylor, B. P. Shillaber, Walter Whitman and N. P. Willis being among the contributors. Also contains biographical sketches of the writers.

Preface: "The chief merit of the volume consists not so much in its literary excellence as in the evidence of what industry, and application, unaided by wealth and patronage, can accomplish. Many of the articles were written by those who were born under the most unfavorable auspices—cast in early life destitute upon the world, and forced to rely solely on their own exertions, but by cultivating the nobler parts of their nature all have won for themselves 'A good name, which is better than riches,' and some, drinking more deeply at wisdom's fount, are now reaping reward and fame in the higher walks of literature and science."

A note in Catalogue of Books in the Library of the New York Typothete says: "Brenton was a country editor at Jamaica, N. Y., who determined to gather poems and brief essays and sketches that had been written by printers. When nearly half done he was unable to complete his work. In this emergency he applied to the late Peter C. Baker, then foreman for John F. Trow of New York, who secured him a publisher, supplied biographical sketches and furnished the printing. It will be noticed that the second half of the work is better executed than the first half."

Describes 116 issues of the Mexican press between the years 1539 and 1600, with biographies of authors, extracts, commentaries and references to other writers on the bibliography of Mexico. Prices which Mexican books have brought at auction sales are given.

Senor Icazbalceta was a practical printer, and he carried out his fine bibliographical plans with fervor. His great achievement is his "Bibliografia Mexicana del Siglo XVI." He was the happy owner of many of the books he described. The late Bishop John F. Hurst once wrote in The Independent as follows: "It is believed in Mexico that this wealthy author was so in love with his undertaking and so fond of fine book-making that he took part in the typesetting of this masterpiece of the art."

The "Bibliografia Mexicana" is an admirable work, beautifully printed.

Medina, Jose Toribio. Bibliotheca Americana. Santiago, 1888. 8vo, vi, 479 pp.

An interesting and valuable feature in many of the following bibliographical works compiled by Senor Medina is the presence of numerous notes relating to early Spanish American printers and printing.

—— La Imprenta en America Vireinato del Rio de la Plata. Epitome. 1705-1810. Santiago de Chile: Impreso en casa del autor, 1890. 16mo, viii, 51, (1) pp. 50 copies printed.

Brief, chronological list of 497 issues of the press in Paraguay, Cordoba del Tucuman and Buenos-Aires.

—— La Imprenta en Lima. Epitome. 1584-1810. Santiago de Chile: Impreso en casa del autor, 1890. 16mo, 118, (1) pp. 100 copies printed.

Chronological list of 1155 issues of the press in Lima, briefly given.

—— Bibliografia de la Imprenta en Santiago de Chile desde sus Origenes hasta Febrero de 1817. Santiago de Chile: Impreso en casa del autor, 1891. 4to, xli, (facsimile), 179, (2) pp., portrait, facsimiles; folding facsimile of "Aurora de Chile, periodico ministerial y politico."

Introduction treats of the history of the press in Chile, which dates from 1584, when Antonio Ricardo, an Italian who had worked at printing in Mexico, printed "La Doctrina Christiana."

In the Anales del Museo de la Plata: Materiales para la historia fisica y moral del continente Sud-Americano, La Plata, 1892, folio (529 copies, as follows: 4 on papel japon, 25 on papel vitela, 500 on papel fuerte), Senor Medina contributed the following:

Historia y Bibliografia de la Imprenta en la America Espanola. La Plata: Taller de Publicaciones del Museo, 1892. vi pp.

General introduction to the subject.

Historia y Bibliografia de la Imprenta en el Antiquo Vireinato del Rio de la Plata. xvi pp.

Introduction to the following divisions of the subject:

I. Historia y Bibliografia de la Imprenta en el Paraguay (1705-1727). xiv, (1), 36 pp.

II. Historia y Bibliografia de la Imprenta en Cordoba del Tucuman (1766). xiii, 12 pp.

III. Historia y Bibliografia de la Imprenta en Buenos-Aires (1780-1810). xliii, 452 pp.

IV. Historia y Bibliografia de la Imprenta en Montevideo (1807-1810). xii, 15 pp.

Indexes, xviii pp.; numerous fac-similes, plates, portraits.

Senor Medina says: "We shall follow up the subject with the history of printing in the captain-generalship of Quito, in Bogota, Havana, Guatemala and, please Heaven, in the viceroyalty of Mexico, the cradle of the typographic art in America. Finally, we shall publish the general history of printing in the old Spanish colonies, for which we shall be able to employ a great number of documents hitherto entirely unknown."

See Bibliographica, Vol. I., pp. 262-273, London, 1895.

The above work of Senor Medina is a remarkable performance in many ways. It is history, biography and bibliography all in one, supplemented by a wealth of illustrations reproduced from many rare and curious Argentine imprints. The extent of his research one would think, is well nigh exhaustive. Many curious, interesting and minute particulars are given concerning the authors and printers as well as the books. A bibliographical work so enriched by the beauty of its illustration and the excellence of its typography has seldom appeared.

— Early Prayer Books of America, being a descriptive account of Prayer Books published in the United States, Mexico and Canada. St. Paul: Privately Printed, 1896. Square 8vo, xv, 492 pp., facsimiles.

Thirty-four facsimiles; frontispiece, in red and black, a facsimile of the title page of the first Roman missal printed in America, printed in the City of Mexico by Antonio de Espinosa in 1561.

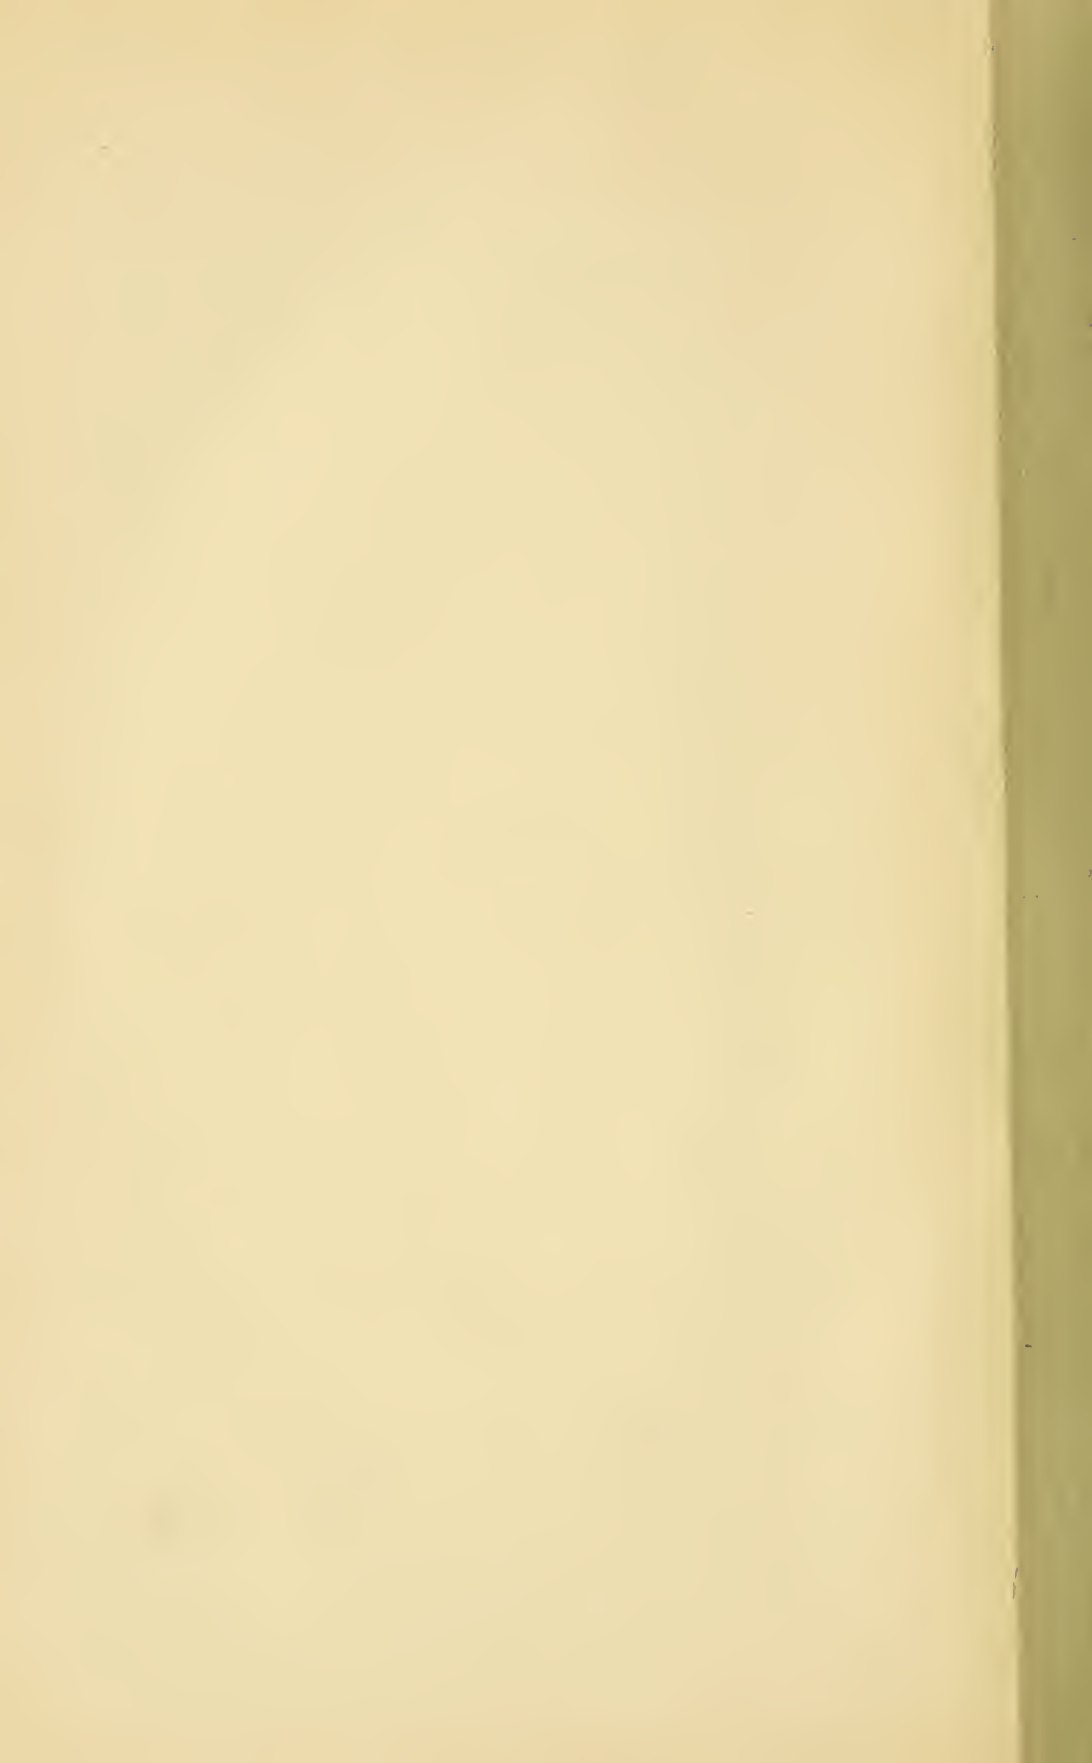

"The earliest books printed in Mexico deal chiefly with the Christian doctrine. Even after printing became an active industry, the monks continued to prepare church books on vellum by the slow process of hand illumination. About twenty years after the presses of Mexico had been in operation, there appeared the first copy in type of the Roman Missal. Considering the early age that produced it, it is certainly a splendid specimen of the printer's art. It is in folio in gothic letter, with the notes of plain song in red and black. It has 330 pages, and is in Latin. The printing of the title page is in red and black. The colophon states that the volume was issued in the City of Mexico in the month of September, 1561, from the press of Antonio de Espinosa."—Prayer Books of Mexico," chap. i.
